DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1, 5, and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 as being unpatentable over USP 4294629 to Szyszkowski et al (PTO-1449) or US 2002/0015657 to Dong.

Szyszkowski discloses the features including the claimed Cu-Zn alloy composition and alpha-phase structure (col. 2, lines 21-32). Dong discloses Cu-Zn-Sn-Si alloys ([0017] to [0019]) with alpha phase matrix. The other phase such as  $\gamma$ ,  $\kappa$ , or  $\beta$  is controlled by Si/Sn ratio to be dispersed between alpha phase regions ([0029 to [0030]) which reads on claimed 90% or more alpha phase. Nonetheless, the amount of alpha phase is a known result effective variable to improve dezincification ([0002] to [0005]). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to optimize the amount of alpha phase, since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980).

With respect to the instant recited expressions in claim 5 that it is well settled that there is no invention in the discovery of a general formula if it covers a composition described in the prior art, In re Cooper and Foley 1943 C.D. 357, 553 O.G. 177; 57 USPQ 117, Taklatwalla v. Marburg, 620 O.G. 685, 1949 C.D. 77, and In re Pilling, 403 O.G. 513, 44 F(2) 878, 1931 C.D. 75. In the absence of evidence to the contrary, the selection of the proportions of elements would appear to require no more than routine investigation by those ordinary skilled in the art. In re Austin, et al., 149 USPQ 685, 688.

Claims 1, 5, and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 as being unpatentable over USP 4259124 to Smith et al (reference of record) in view of USP 4294629 to Szyszkowski et al (PTO-1449) or US 2002/0015657 to Dong.

Smith discloses features including the claimed Cu-Zn alloy composition and alpha-phase structure (col. 2, lines 1 to col. 3, line 7). Smith teaches to add lead to improve machinability but does not disclose the amount of lead (col. 2, line 67 to col. 3, line 7). Szyszkowski discloses 1.5 to 4.5 wt.% lead would improve machinability (col. 2, lines 21-25). Dong discloses 0.5 to 3 wt.% lead would improve machinability ([0033] and [0034]). In view the teachings of Szyszkowski or Dong, ordinary skill artisan would recognize 0.5 to 4.5 wt.% lead would be included in the Cu-Zn alloy of Smith in order to improve machinability. It has been held that combining known ingredient having known functions, to provide a composition having the additive effect of each of the known functions is within realm of performance of ordinary skill artisan. In re Castner, 186

USPQ 213 (217). The use of conventional materials to perform their known functions in a conventional process is obvious. In re Raner, 134 USPQ 343 (CCPA 1962).

With respect to the instant recited expressions in claim 5 that it is well settled that there is no invention in the discovery of a general formula if it covers a composition described in the prior art, In re Cooper and Foley 1943 C.D. 357, 553 O.G. 177; 57 USPQ 117, Taklatwalla v. Marburg, 620 O.G. 685, 1949 C.D. 77, and In re Pilling, 403 O.G. 513, 44 F(2) 878, 1931 C.D. 75. In the absence of evidence to the contrary, the selection of the proportions of elements would appear to require no more than routine investigation by those ordinary skilled in the art. In re Austin, et al., 149 USPQ 685, 688.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 5, and 11 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Applicant is reminded that when amendment and/or revision is required, applicant should therefore specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See 37 C.F.R. § 1.121 and 37 C.F.R. Part §41.37 (c)(1)(v).
